OTS Announces $1 Million Civil Money Penalty And Prohibition Order Against Former Savings Bank President

WASHINGTON, D.C., September 29, 2004 -- The Office of Thrift Supervision (OTS) announced today the imposition of a $1 million civil money penalty and prohibition order against Robert DeMane, the former president and director of Dollar Savings Bank (Dollar), a Newark, New Jersey, savings institution closed by OTS earlier this year.

In addition, OTS announced the imposition of a similar financial industry prohibition against Larry Marro, a former employee and institution affiliated party of Dollar.

Under the terms of the prohibition orders, Messrs. DeMane and Marro are barred from involvement in the affairs of any financial institution, including any insured depository institution or credit union.

Copies of the above referenced orders are attached to this release.
